Page No. 2000 and 2005 are specially made for Drafupon for drawing and lettering on drawing paper, which has a more or less coarse surface. They have seem subs and less sharp points than most others, possess great elasticity and permit of more rapid lettering or drawing, without scratching or catching in the grain of the page. Drafumen will prefer these peans to any other kind, as most others are intended prig-sipally for drawing on stone.

The Payment Block Lettering Pens are particularly adapted for lettering Engineers' and Architects' Drawings, for border lines or any heavy linework, also for the use of merchants for writing price and show cards, etc.

The common method of forming block letters with a fine pen is slow and tedious work and but few draftemen are capable of executing neat lettering with reasonable rapidity. With the block lettering pen a letter is formed at a single stroke. There is no dexterity or knack to acquire to use these pens, as they are as simple to operate as a penell. All irregularities due to the draftsman's failure to produce equal widths and parallel lines in forming letters, are avoided in work done with this pen, because all strokes in any direction are uniform in width and density. Work can be done in one-quarter of the time needed with the fine-pen method. It is unnecessary, even on the finest plans, to excefully outline the letters in pencil before inking, as a rough draft with guide lines is all that is needed. These pens are manufactured in six graded sizes: the following is a reproduction of letters made with them ;
